Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Ancient Man Volume One. Ancient Man describes the earliest development of civilization along the banks of the Nile and the Mediterranean and in the fertile valley of Mesopotamia. Volume Two - explains the origin and growth of the Classical World of Greece (which organised our ideas and systematised our science), and of Rome (which gave us the foundations for all our future experiments in state-craft). Volume Three - entitled The Middle Ages is the story of the invasion of Europe by savage tribes from Central Asia. It shows their wanderings across the western part of the old continent and tells you how they settled down amidst the ruins of that selfsame Roman Empire which they had just destroyed and how they used the Roman civilization as the foundation for their own culture. Volume Four - the Rebirth Of Civilization gives an account of those enthusiastic centuries which followed the turmoil of the Middle Ages when man suddenly discovered the literary, artistic and scientific inheritance of Greece and Rome which lay buried beneath the wreckage of the great migrations and awaited only the hand of the intellectual pioneer to be brought back to life. Volume Five. The Conquest Of New Worlds shows the people of Europe, outgrowing the narrow boundaries of the medieval state, and venturing forth to discover what might be hiding from their curious gaze behind the distant horizon. Volume Six. The Conquest Of Knowledge, tells of the even more perilous voyage which man undertook into the uncharted realm of knowledge. Volume Seven - called The Beginning Of Freedom, shows the new type of man who believes himself master of the visible world and...
