Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Letter to the Committee Chosen by the American Tract Society: To Inquire Into the Proceedings of Its Executive Committee, in Relation to Slavery Gentlemen: A responsibility, no less undesired than unexpected, has been thrown upon you. The discharge of this responsibility will either smooth or ruffle your dying pillow; it will accompany you through the dark valley, and bear witness for or against you before the judgment sent. The weight of this responsibility consists in the influence your action will exert in weakening or strengthening the fidelity and courage of the American Church. This influence will spring solely from the weight of your personal characters, and the high position you occupy in the confidence of the religious community. Your functions as a committee are not those of a jury, for there is no issue of fact to be tried. The acts of the Executive Committee which have given offence, and which have led to your appointment, far from being denied, are admitted and justified. Nor are your functions those of a court, invested with...
