Secondary teachers deal with a tendency in their pupils to combine all primary facts into secondary facts or systems, they have to govern the spirit of their teachings by a still higher principle, and this is the unity of the sciences. We see that, as any given science is a second order of fact, so the unity of the sciences is itself a third order of fact. This survey of the five steps or stages in education and their differences of method brings us to the further consideration of the new era that is now opening for normal schools; for it is evident that no longer can the teaching of teachers be limited to one method, that of the elementary school. It must rather be...
